One fine ordinary
day a little girl,
was riding her
tricycle through
the park.

She rode along
side her mother
who was
texting furiously
on her phone.

It was a beautiful day
for a walk.

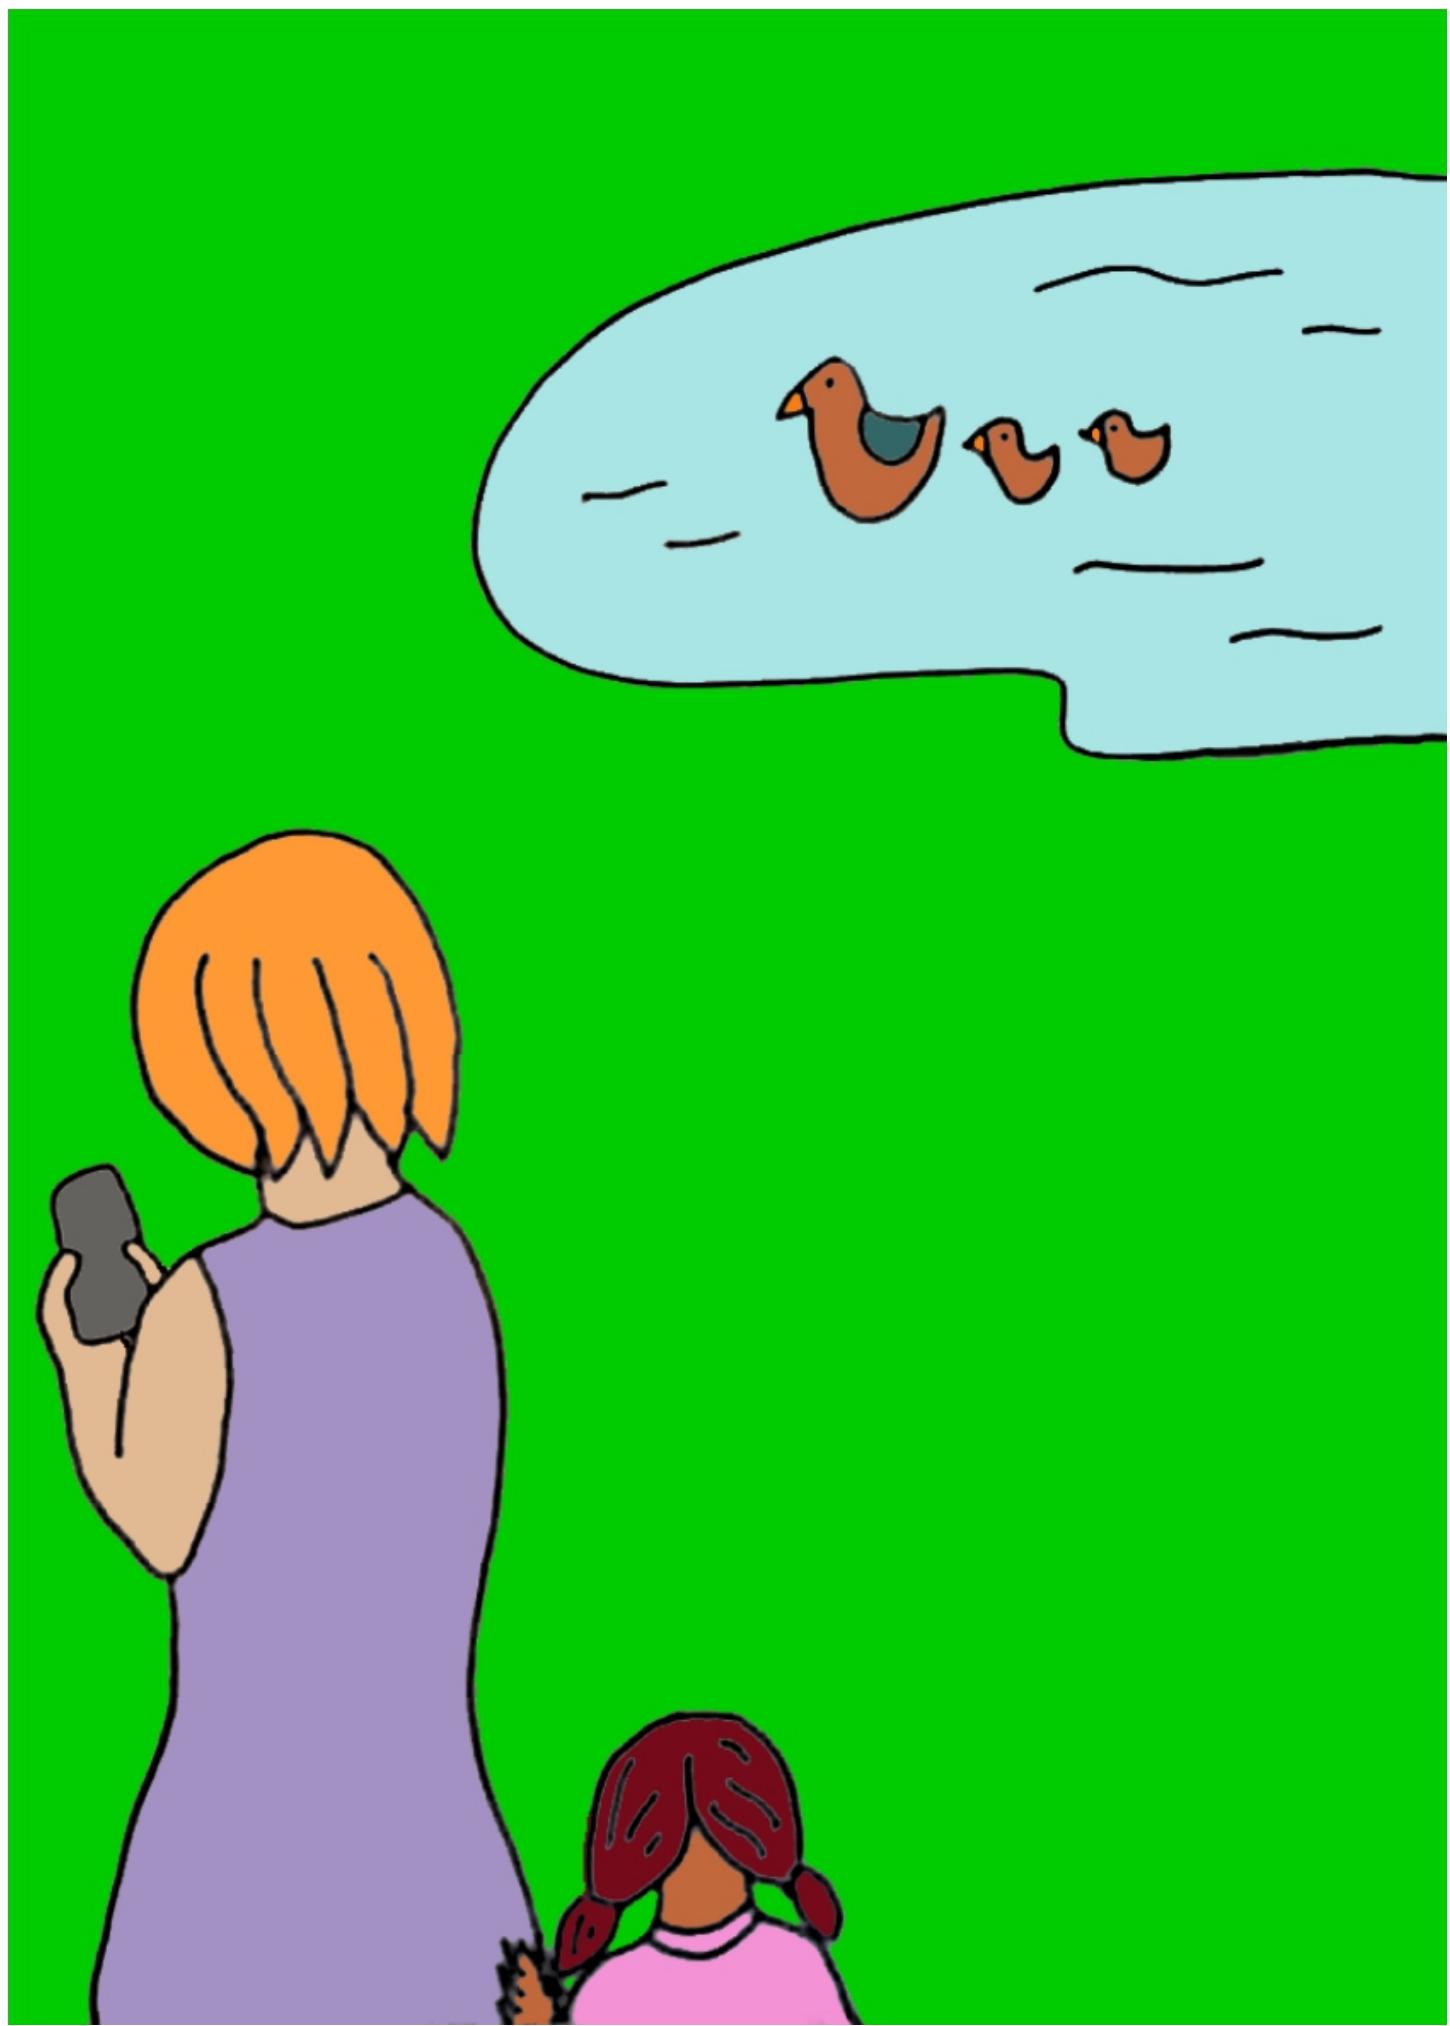

The little girl asked,
"Mummy can we play
on the swings?"

Her mother, texting
furiously, replied,
"In a minute, Dear."

Shortly they pass by an ice cream cart. "Mummy, can I have an ice cream?" the little girl asked.

Her mother, still texting furiously says, "In a minute, Dear."

They come to a lake
where ducks are swimming with
their little ducklings.

"Mummy, can I feed the ducks?"

Her mother, still texting furiously replies, "In a minute, Dear."

Hrumph:
... HELP!

The little girl is angry.
She stomps her foot and
shouts, "Hrumph!!!"

Then in desperation she cries, "Help!"

Not so very far away,
A certain cow, strolling
through the same park,
    heard
a call for help!

And
suddenly...

Quick as a flash,
Supercow was there!

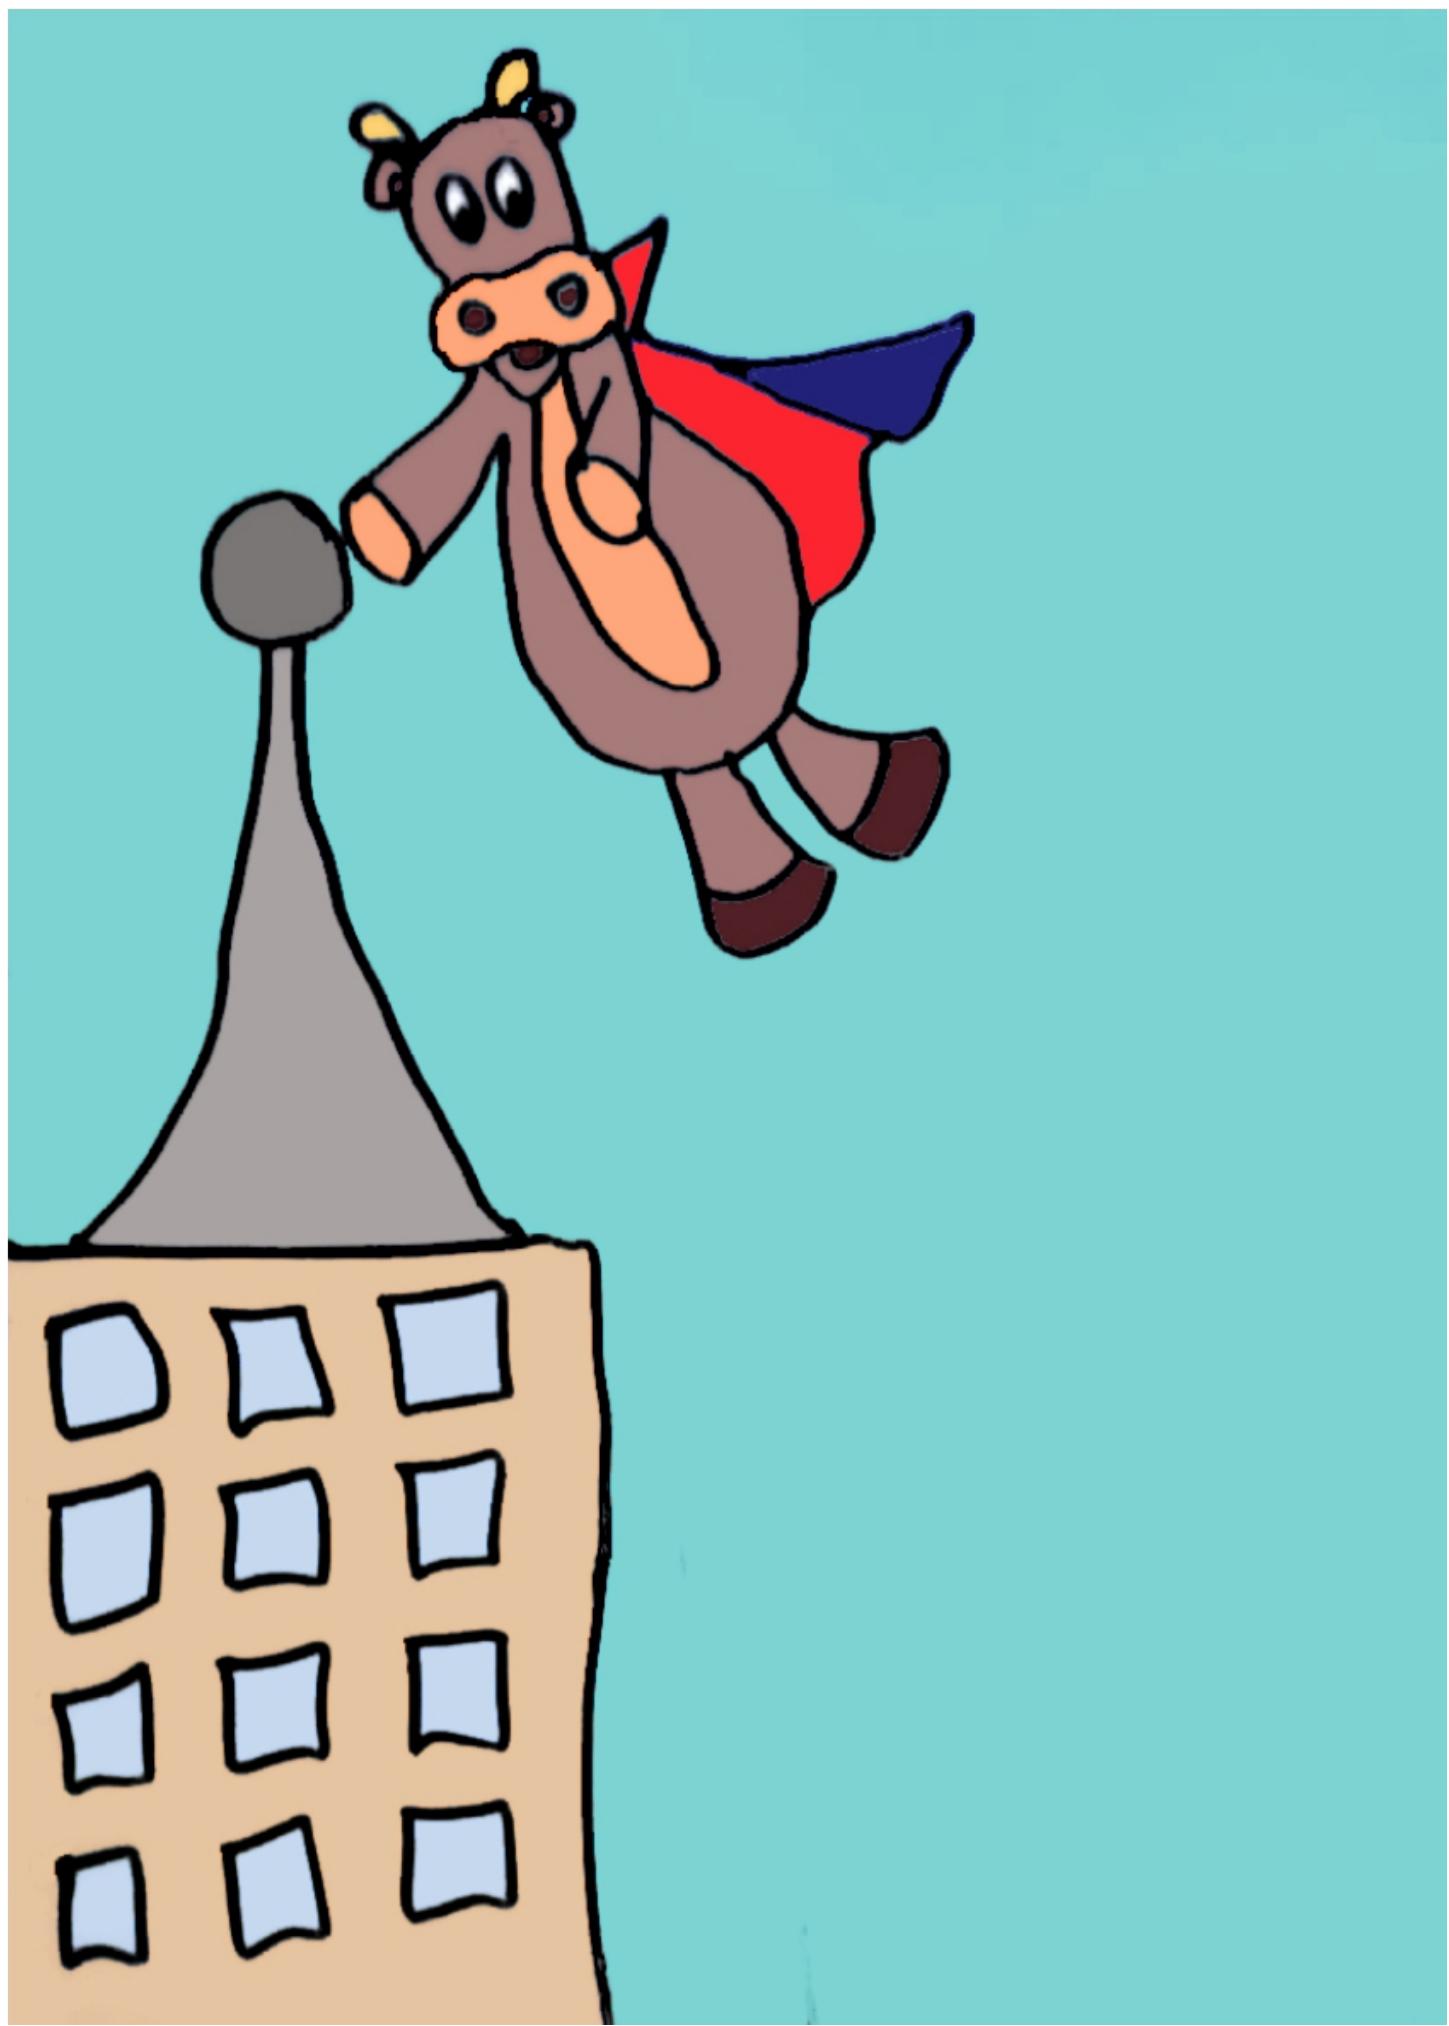

"What is the matter," he asks.

In tears, the girl replied
"Mummy is too busy
texting to play with me."

Supercow observed
the mother texting.

"I know how to fix that,"
he said.

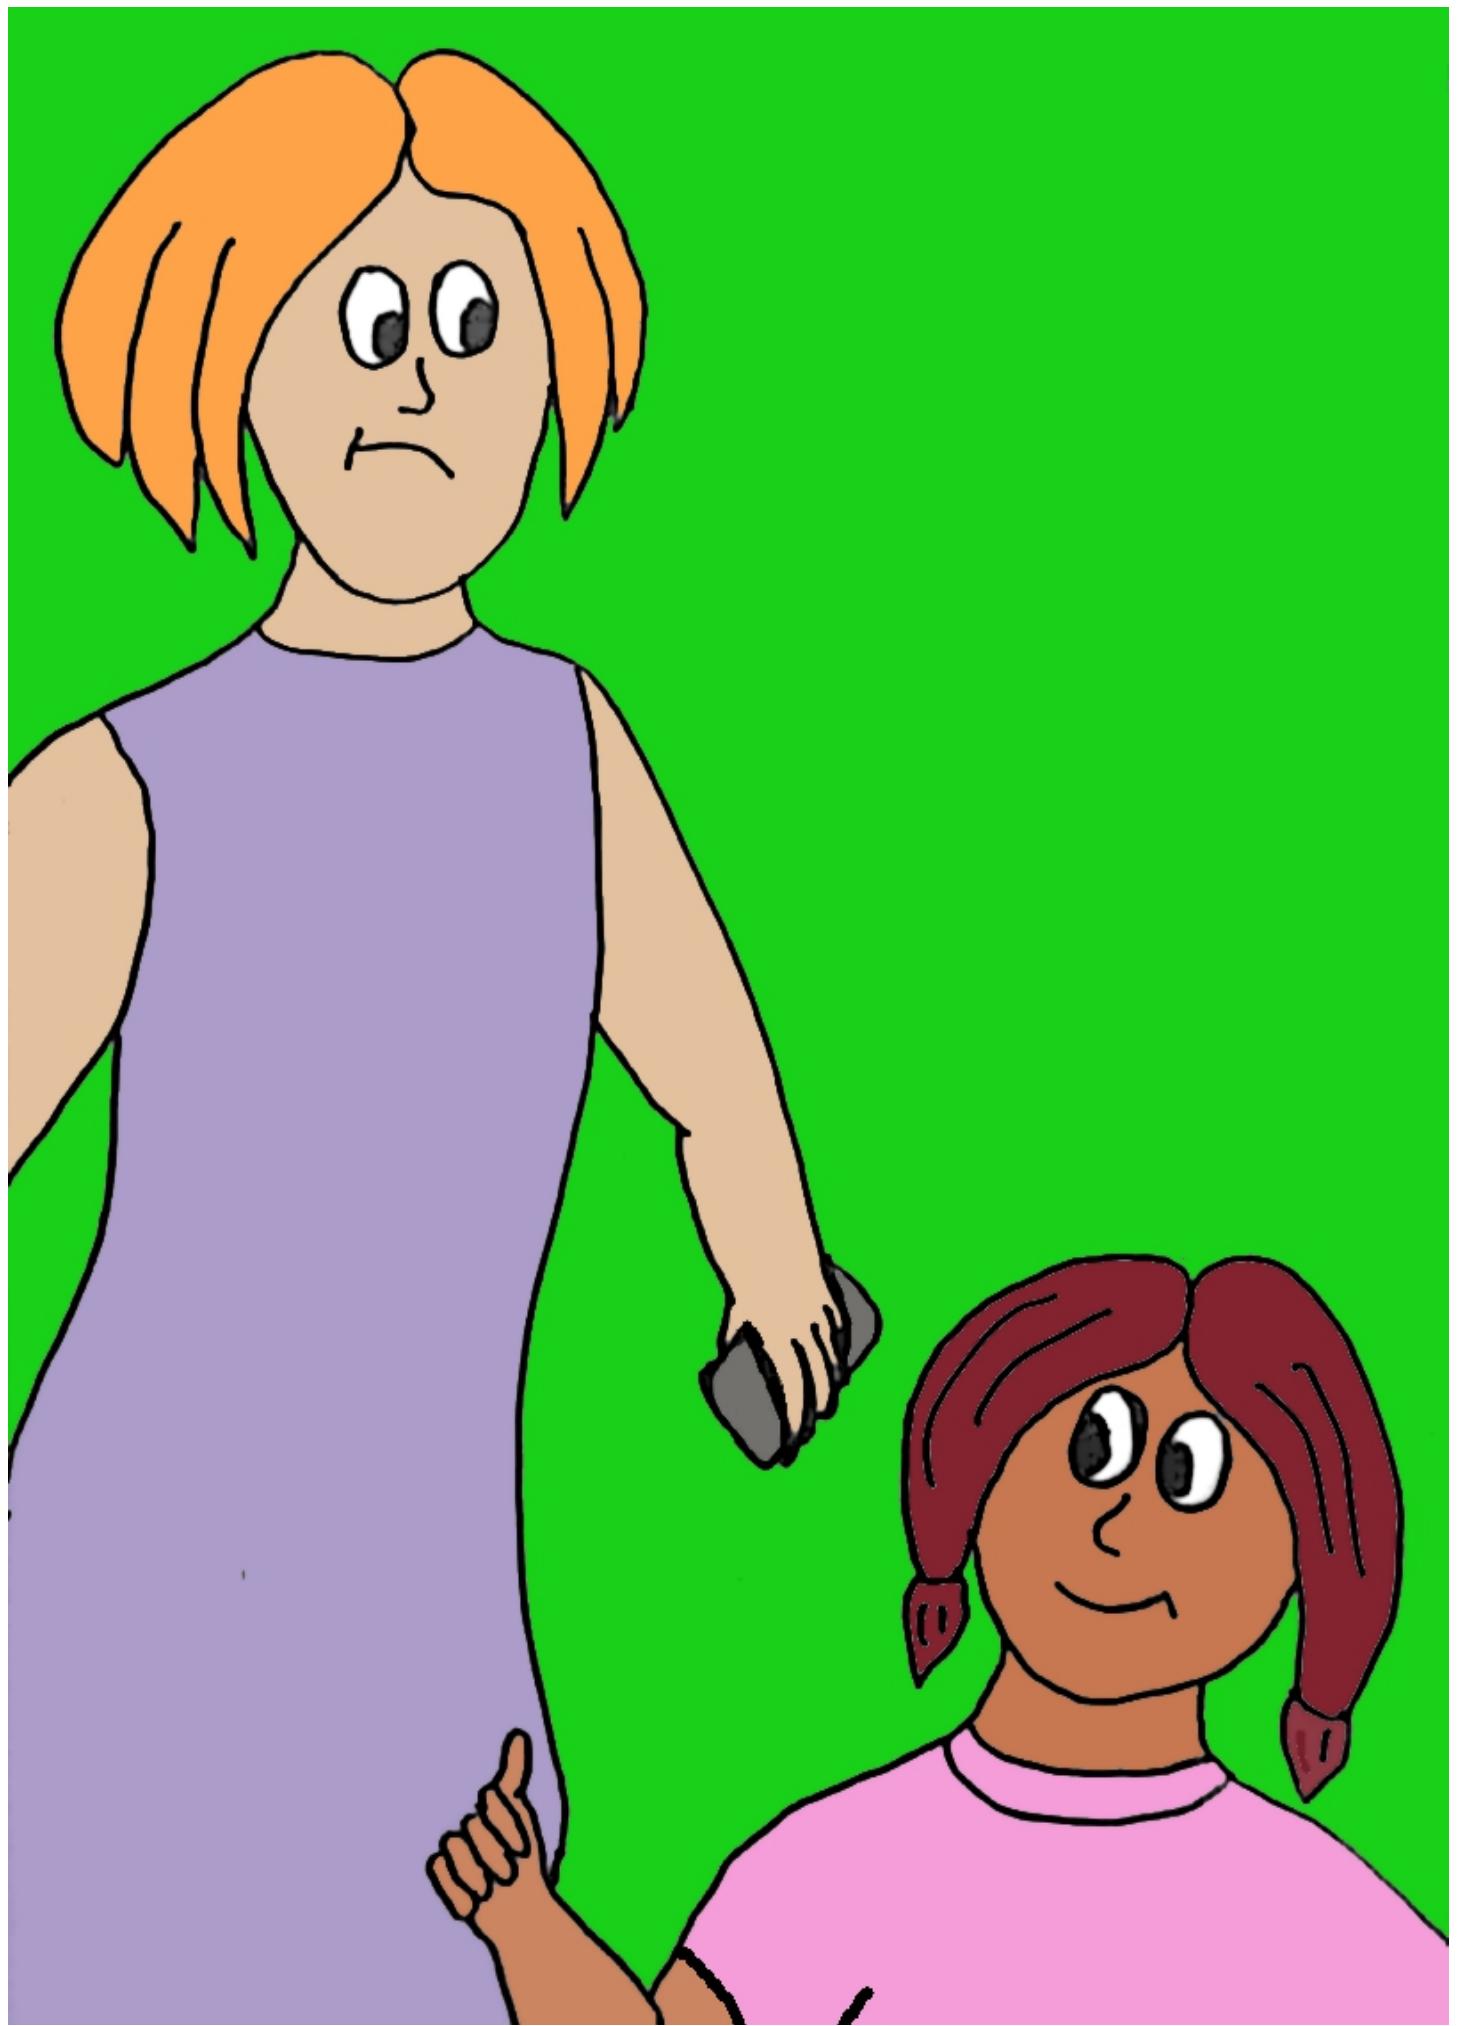

With that, Supercow flew to the top of the tallest skyscraper in the city where the internet antenna was sitting, reached down and disconnected the cable.

Hiding behind a tree Supercow could see the little girl's mother stamp
her foot in the same way
the girl did,

"Drat! The Internet's
gone down."

The little girl asks,
"Does that mean we can
play on the swings?"

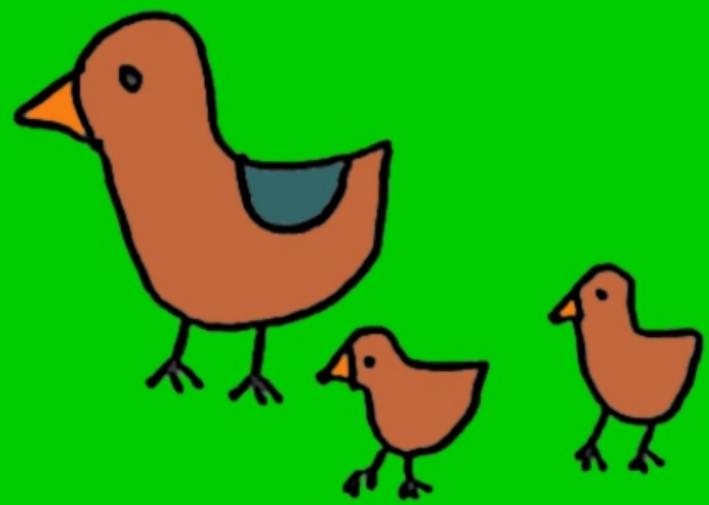

"Humph! I suppose so,"
her mother replied
gruffly.

Wheeeee...!!!

Yuuuummm...!!!

Aawwww...!!!

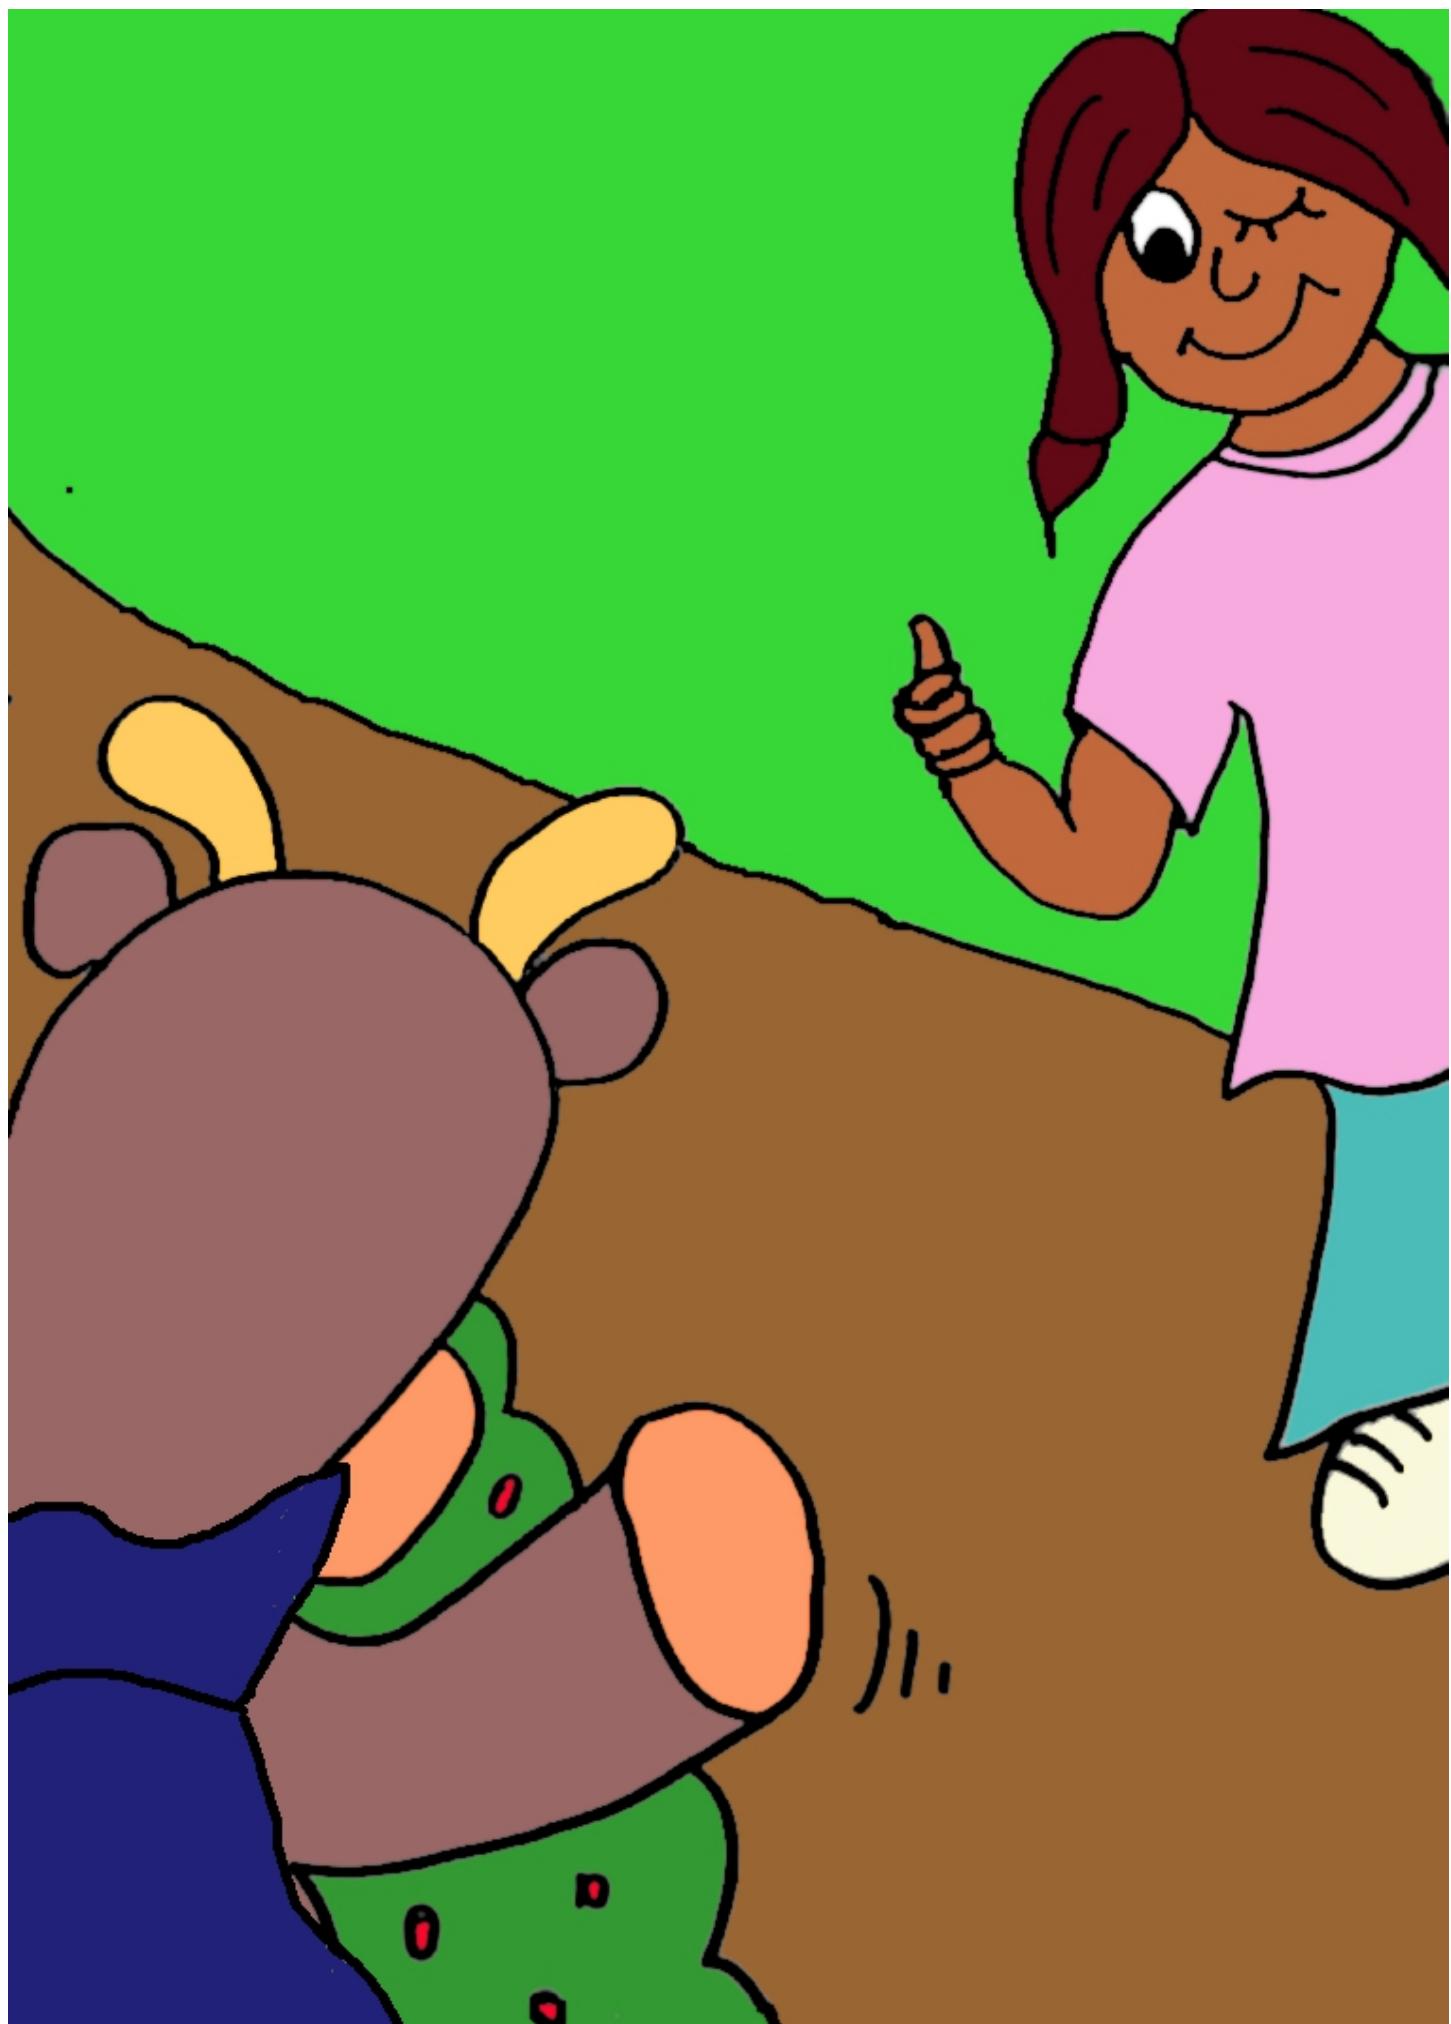

The mother and daughter
have a very fun time:
playing in the play area;
licking yummy ice cream;
feeding the ducks.

lets
Do it
again!

"My darling,
I am soooo sorry
I was so busy!
That was great fun,"
her mother says,
"we'll have to do it again soon."

The little girl
smiled and winked
at Supercow.

Seeing all his work
was done,
Supercow flew away
to save
another day.

And Cow went back to being just an
ordinary cow,
on what was just,
an ordinary day.

Managing your Tech Guidance for Parents

Technology can be a crutch as much as it is a tool, managing it properly for both kids and parents is important. Here's some helpful tips for managing your tech.

Let People Know you'll be Offline

If you have planned time with your children let people know you're going to be out of reach.

Send Auto Responders

A quick, I'll get back to you once I am free, autoresponder or even as a manual message is free and easy, and lets face it there are not many urgent matters that can't be handled by someone else or deferred for an hour or two.

Plan Offscreen Activities for Kids

Parent's often complain about kids having too much screen time, but do you plan activities for them that are offscreen? Try a walk in the park, sports or yoga, a card game, board game, chess, or even chess in the park if you're lucky enough to have that facility.

Be There

If you plan time with your children, be there 100% - don't spread your attention between friends and colleagues, bosses, and employees. Wherever you are, particularly if it is time with your kids, 'Be There!'.

About the Illustrator

Danielle Bruckert is a New Zealander living abroad, who now calls Africa home. Her chosen career is as a professional pilot, she has worked in a variety of aviation capacities from instruction to airline flying, and is the author of several aviation text books.

Danielle started writing children's books as a creative outlet from the stress of her 'day job' and as a break from the sometimes monotonous work required for her professional writing.

She began with the Mac and Dipper series, aimed at 5-10 year olds, inspired by two of her own dogs.

After having children of her own, she suddenly found she had a muse, an eager resource for test reading, and, by benefit of age, an honest critic. It was fun and rewarding to write creative stories to match her children's learning curve.

Because of her passion for children's literature, and the role it plays in literacy standards, all of Danielle's books are available free in ebook versions. This also led Danielle to create the website 'Free Kids Books' to share good quality free children's books with others, contributing to improved literacy standards world wide
